Since 2003, Arrupe Jesuit High School has provided quality, Catholic, college-preparatory education to at risk, inner-city youth through partnerships with the larger Denver business community.

Students work one day a week in a corporate office, gaining valuable world experience and earning almost 70% of their own tuition costs. The rest of the week they are in class preparing themselves for college.

Dear Friends of Arrupe Jesuit High School:

It is that time of year again and excitement is building. Magis Night is just around the corner on Saturday, February 27th. This year's event promises to be the best ever. I am particularly excited about the opportunity to hear our keynote speaker, Fr. Greg Boyle, SJ. Fr. Greg is one of the best known Jesuits in the United States because of his extraordinary work with gang members in East Los Angeles. In order to help young men and women leave gang life and start over again, Fr. Greg founded Homeboy Industries. By arming former gang members with jobs instead of guns, Fr. Greg has saved the lives of countless young men and women over the last twenty years. The subject of more than one book written by those who admire his work, Fr. Greg is one of the most engaging speakers I have ever heard.

We have so much to celebrate here at Arrupe. Our school is serving more students than ever, our students are finding great success in their work-study assignments, and our seniors are being accepted into some of the most competitive schools in the country. All this is possible because of you. Your generosity makes sure that the wonderful education available here at Arrupe is accessible to all students regardless of their ability to pay. You ensure that poverty will not be an obstacle to success. Thank You!

If you have not purchased your tickets to Magis Night, I encourage you to get your reservation in soon. I look forward to seeing you at the Hyatt so we can celebrate together the great things that God is doing here at Arrupe Jesuit High School. May God bless you.

Sincerely,

Rev. Stephen Planning, SJ
